#EUHA 2025: Free of charge for trainees and students. Exhibitors can still book stand space

(Frankfurt am Main/Münster 22 May 2025) Apprentices, students and school pupils interested in a career in hearing acoustics can visit the 69th International Congress of Hearing Aid Acousticians and the industry exhibition in Nuremberg from 22 to 24 October 2025 free of charge. Exhibitors can still book exhibition space until 19 June 2025.

Under the motto 'Do the sound check for your career', young visitors can take part in the complete EUHA lecture programme free of charge. This will give them an insight into current research topics and the latest technological developments in hearing acoustics. Guided tours of the industry exhibitions will be offered for young industry professionals. Please have a look at: <https://www.euha.org/karriere-soundcheck> (in German only)

Admission to the event is free of charge with a school or student ID. Tickets can be generated online in the ticket shop from the end of July.

At the central networking area in Hall 7, the EUHA Live Area, universities and colleges will be presenting audiology and hearing acoustics degree programmes, among other things.

For the first time, keynote speeches on the future topics of the industry will also be held in the EUHA Live Area on Friday 24 October from 12:30 to 14:00. Top speakers are futurologists Tristan Horx and Anja Kirig.

The partner country Austria will also present itself in the EUHA Live Area.

Over 120 companies from all over the world have already registered for the international industrial exhibition. Companies can still register for stand space until 19 June at www.ausstellung-euha.org/en/. After that, the interactive hall plan and the exhibitor list 2025 will be activated at www.ausstellung-euha.org/en/.
